Former DXC Technology GM, Darren Klauser, Joins Ontellus, the Nation's Largest, Privately-Held Data Retrieval & Claims Intelligence Provider, as CEO

HOUSTON, TX – August 6, 2018. For Immediate Release

Ontellus™, an industry-leading, nationwide data retrieval and analytics technology company announced publicly today that Darren Klauser has been appointed by the Ontellus Board of Directors to lead Ontellus as its new Chief Executive Officer, effective August 1, 2018.

“The Board and I are very excited to welcome Darren to Ontellus. Darren has an impressive track record of developing and growing market leading technology businesses that service the insurance sector, and those experiences will serve Ontellus well as the company moves into its next phase of growth” says Tom Caughlin, Principal at the CapStreet Group, which is the majority investor in Ontellus.

Former Ontellus CEO Newton Ross has served in the capacity of CEO since 2010 and was instrumental in laying the initial groundwork to spearhead the tremendous growth that Ontellus has experienced in the last several years. Moving forward, Ross will remain an integral part of the Ontellus Executive team, transitioning into the role of President.

“Newton’s leadership was instrumental in helping build Ontellus into the market-leading organization that it is today. He oversaw a period of tremendous growth, and the board thanks him for his service. We are pleased that the organization will continue to benefit from his insights and experience,” continues Caughlin.

As the former General Manager of the Americas Insurance Division of DXC Technology, a Fortune 500 (NYSE: DXC) end-to-end IT services company, Darren is well equipped to take Ontellus into the next era of automation and data intelligence in the insurance industry.

“Insurers are pushing for fully digital solutions that solve complex problems without the hassle of complicated implementations,” says Darren Klauser. “Ontellus and the My.Ontellus™ cloud platform are powerful tools which we will leverage moving forward as part of our digital ecosystem to allow for the exchange of critical records information for the advantage of our insurance industry clients.”
